The questions are meant to aid you in each section. You may decide to write more than the questions ask for. You may add additional information and other items, such as photos and resources. If you keep a project record book each year, you will be able to see how your skills and knowledge develop over time.

BUYER INVITATION LETTER

1. Attach a copy of your buyer invitation letter.
2. Attach a list of potential buyers you contacted (first and last name).

Design and produce an invitation letter that you will send to your potential buyers promoting and marketing your project. Your letter should describe the effort you have put into making the project and what you have learned. Invite them to see all of the projects in the silent auction. Consider including a photo of you and your project. Be creative!

Your letter should indicate where the silent auction will take place. If they are the winning bidder, they will be contacted with information on how to pay and where to pick up their item.

Personalize and send the invitation letter to your potential buyers by the first week of July.

THANK YOU NOTE

1. Attach a copy of the thank you note that you will send to your buyer after the silent auction. Your thank you note does not have to be long. Three to five sentences expressing your appreciation works well. This note will make it easier for you to write a hand-written copy to warmly thank your buyer for their support.

REFLECTION:

1. What did you enjoy most about this project?

2. What part of this project challenged you the most?

3. What would you change if you were doing this project again?
